Smartphone Payments

Today, more and more stores let customers pay with their smartphones. Shoppers do not need to carry a wallet or count coins at the register. Many busy people pay this way, and by doing so, they can finish shopping more quickly. However, some older people still feel safer when they use cash.

A

B

