Online Lessons

These days, online lessons are becoming popular among children. With a computer or a tablet, they can learn English, music, or art at home. Many parents do not want to spend time taking their children to classes, so they choose online lessons. However, some children say that they miss their classmates.

A

B

